Your Personal Element

Your Personal Element or Day Master is the starting point of your Life Pillars Chart. It represents the Heavenly Stem related to your day of birth. Only by knowing your Day Master, can all the other factors of your chart be understood.

Your Personal Element is YIN FIRE which is represented by a FLAME. Your personality's greatest trait is the capacity to INSPIRE others without them realising it.

Your Personal Element is YIN FIRE, represented by a FLAME or the moonlight that warms the spirit and brings myths and personal pantheons to life.

It is your nature to be somewhat self-centred, albeit in a moderate and flexible manner. Maybe you are a sensitive and emotional person, even a little unstable, the same way a flame flickers with the wind.

It is also true that you're one to care a lot about your personal development, usually being hard on yourself too. On the other hand, you also have a flare for the dramatic, being someone who loves to put on a good show. That says a lot when it comes to your uncanny ability to communicate emotionally and to work with the fantasies and dreams of others — and those of yourself — with great creativity.

In this context, it is likely that you possess the ability to charm, especially when it comes to love, and it is easy for you to become a hopeless romantic, unless other aspects point to the contrary.

What happens is that you need to fully put all of you in everything you do. The Fire's mission is to provide warmth (in the emotional sense) and to shine light into other people's path, carrying a more intellectual, or even mystical, connotation.

Some examples of celebrities born under YIN FIRE are: Kim Kardashian, Jennifer Aniston, David Bowie, Robert De Niro, Tom Hanks, Emma Thompson, Frank Sinatra, and Orson Welles.

NOTE

Please note that your PERSONAL ELEMENT is not meant to explain your whole personality since there are other components related to the moment of your birth that will influence you as well. The PERSONAL ELEMENT should therefore be seen as the basis, the raw material that will be shaped by a group of forcers, namely the PROFILES, which reflect the cosmic conditions of your birth.

Your Natural Profile

Your Personal Element or Day Master is the starting point of your Life Pillars Chart. It represents the Heavenly Stem related to your day of birth. Only by knowing your Day Master, can all the other factors of your chart be understood.

The Leader is your Natural Profile.

Your Natural Profile is THE LEADER. You know all too well the art of MOTIVATING others.

THE LEADER is your Natural Profile

This means that there is an energy belonging to your Personal Element that resides at the base of your personality with a vibrant tone.

Consequently, your personality is a lively one, becoming magnetic and charismatic as well. This will be an asset that will help you to reach the potential provided either by your Personal Element or by any Dominant Profiles you might have.

If all your personality factors confirm this, you will be competitive and develop leadership qualities.

This same THE LEADER Profile will help you aspire to always get a little more out of life instead of limiting yourself to what life offered from the beginning. This is good and gives you the ability to motivate the people you work with or relate to.

Even if this profile is not one of your Dominant Profiles as well (something that would give it a central role in your personality), it will still be a positive factor that will help you realize your full potential.

Your Dominant Profile

Your Personal Element or Day Master is the starting point of your Life Pillars Chart. It represents the Heavenly Stem related to your day of birth. Only by knowing your Day Master, can all the other factors of your chart be understood.

THE PERFORMER

THE PERFORMER is a Dominant Profile of your personality. This means that you know all too well how to make yourself stand out. The STAGE is your natural habitat... (Should THE PERFORMER be your Natural Profile as well, then these predispositions are heavily accentuated)

THE PERFORMER is one of the Dominant Profiles of your personality.

There is a charisma that emanates from your personality. For you, it is important to feel that your presence and your actions change the environments around you and that people react to your company. The simple perception of this impact works as oxygen for your self-esteem. And your personality, probably cheerful and communicative, helps a lot.

To be someone that many people know and admire, to be "on the scene", to be surrounded by applause, and to enjoy visibility is the potential of this Profile.

There is also a dose of competitiveness and self-demand that lead you to seek, at all costs, excellence. You feel that it is not enough to simply do things well and regularly fulfill what you are obliged to do. In fact, you feel you have to go well beyond that!

On the other hand, the people-oriented aspect of your personality is allied to a natural acumen for capturing the minds of the people around you. Be they just half a dozen or several thousand, you are good at getting to know what they feel and wish.

All of this can mean a beneficial marketing sense. That is, knowing how to present situations, products, and ideas in a way that touches people and leads them to certain types of decisions and actions. This can be useful for anyone working in advertising, but also in many other fields, including politics...

Finally, success is something you can't do without, and to feel good about yourself, you need some element of glamor in your life.

Celebrities with THE PERFORMER Profile featured: Lionel Messi, Richard Branson, Leonardo DiCaprio, Kim Kardashian, Tiger Woods, Bill Clinton, Frank Sinatra, Jim Morrison, and Elvis Presley.

NOTE

If your Natural Profile is also THE PERFORMER, then these predispositions will be strongly accentuated. On the other hand, the beneficial side of your Profile only becomes more evident when you have among your other Profiles any of the following: THE FRIEND, THE LEADER, THE ANALYSER, or THE PHILOSOPHER.
